Instructions:

Our goals are to

- 1) Free Giulio and Romea
- 2) Fabricate convincing evidence against the FBI agents

To reach these goals everybody has to do their part. You will get tasks from don Mascarbone and don Don.

When you have finished your task, report to the don who gave the task to you. Every time you report for a task or ask for a new task, the whole group needs to be together. In between you may split as you wish.

After proving your skills by fulfilling two tasks, you can come up with own ideas to reach the two goals. When you have a good idea, you must go to a don and tell him about it - people who act without consulting the dons will not be looked upon approvingly. If the don finds your idea useful, it will be written down on a task card and you can go on fulfilling it.

You might want to talk to other people in the city. They can turn out helpful. Find attached a list of persons of particular interest.

You may do every task only once. You may have only one open task from the dons and 2-3 open side quests at any given time.

Your rights:

You may try haggle for rewards if you do a task for anyone else than the dons.

You may refuse a task, but don't expect to get another task instead.

If a task proves impossible for you, you may return it. However, you may do so first after trying to solve it.

You are free to use what skills and materials you have & find... Maybe there's something in your pocket that can turn out useful? Or in your room? Or on the material table? Be creative!
